

IMPORTANT: Please read the warning label on the base of this packaging before use.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE:

1. First place your right hand onto the 'shocking liar' in the hand slot -make sure you are making contact with all the sensors. Strap your hand in place.
2. Press the reset button, then keeping your hand stationary, press the 'Analyser' button. The unit will take a reading of your vital statistics for comparison when you are questioned. The 'Lie level led's ' will activate sequentially and you will hear the product emit a 'reading complete tone'. Your details have now been loaded into the lie detectors computer. You are ready to be questioned !!!!! You should ask 3 'warm up' questions first to regulate the sensors. Your questioner must ask these questions then push the 'Analyser' button after each question to allow the 'lie detector' to evaluate your levels.

THE WARM UP QUESTIONS ARE:

- a. What is your name    b. Are you male or female    c. What colour is your hair

You MUST answer these questions correctly as they are used to regulate your readings. If in the unlikely event the shock liar shocks you during the set up questions and you were telling the truth. Please remove your hand wipe it dry and repeat the set up and warm up questions – if this problem continues and repeats then it means that your moisture levels are not suitable for this machine so pass it to the next player. You have just had a lucky escape !!!!!

3. Your questioner can now ask their questions making sure to push the 'Analyser' button after EACH question. The 'Lie Detector' will measure your 'lie level' each time the 'analyser' button is pushed. When it has assimilated your reaction to the question the 'lie level' LED'S will light up (the evaluation time may vary).

There are 5 'lie level' LED'S in total, 3 green and 2 red. They will light up sequentially - the more led's that light up the more you are moving away from a truthful answer. When you tell a full direct lie or have given an unacceptable amount of half truths or deviations all the 'lie level' lights will light up and you will receive an electric shock !! Serves your light for being a liar.

The normal reaction when receiving a shock is to lift your hand. The hand plate is removable and will come away with your hand from the base unit. This can simply be replaced for the next person to be questioned. To restart the process or start with another person you MUST press the reset button so that all accumulated data is cleared. You can then repeat operations 1-3 in the instructions.

NOTE: The 'Lie detector' evaluates the data and stores the information after each question giving an accumulation of data on the person being questioned. This means that the more questions that are asked then the more information the Lie detector' has to evaluate. Thus it could be possible for you to get away with a lie early in the questioning procedure but the more questions asked the more likely you are to be caught – that means 'shocking consequences' !!!!

Each person gives off different readings and has a different body levels, hence this 'lie detector' could react differently with each person.

This is a novelty item and is to be used for fun only.

The manufacturer accepts no responsibility for any inaccurate readings that may lead to marital or personal disputes.

TIP: Stay cool and calm during the questioning and you may be able to beat the 'lie detector' – can you hold your nerve?

Get your friends to shock you with the truth or you can shock them with THEIR own lies !!!!!
The truth hurts...But not as much as a lie !!!
